Dear Barbara:

I want to express my thanks and compliments for your outstanding presentation on "How to Reach Hard to Reach People" at the recent Home Business Show at the Metro Convention Centre.

It was one of the few presentations with standing room only attendance and was obviously well received judging from the large group who remained to speak with you privately.

In addition to the practical advice contained in your delivery, the audience found the material entertaining. This was certainly fuelled by your humour and enthusiasm.

Thank you again for a memorable hour.

Best regards,

E. T. (Mitch) Lenko
