Hello Barb,

I am more than happy to offer you this testimony on your excellent presentation skills, the valuable information you have to offer and your immense knowledge at both the lay-level and within professional circles. I got a strong and favourable impression that you are very dynamic, brilliant and have the ability to use your deep understanding borne of your personal experience with Braeden. I am impressed by your tenacity and how you broke through many doors and barriers that stood in your and your child's way and how you became a cheerleader, advocate and champion in this field of Autism Caregiver Training. Since I am in the dental field, I believe everyone on the team needs to hone their skill when dealing with the challenges among our patient population. The auxiliaries need to have their own set of skills that I believe can easily be learned from your formal training system.

We enjoyed our day with your group of attendees and truly appreciate the generosity you had extended to myself and Dr. Ghadi at the course. You are a wonderful and engaging speaker who sends the message from the heart.

This was my first time hearing a personal account of someone's journey when their child is diagnosed with autism. It was by chance that I had met Dr. Ghadi two weeks beforehand and I learned that she had a deep and vested interest in the topic. As such, the audit of the course was valuable to both of us on a personal interest level.

I and the Line Officers of the Alpha Omega Dental Society of Toronto would welcome you to write an article for our print publication, the AORTA.

Thank you again for reaching out to us with an idea that has opened our eyes to a much needed education.

Yours Truly,

Dr. Iris Kivity-Chandler, D.D.S., M.Sc., Cert. Ortho., IKC ORTHODONTICS
